Enrolment Requirements

Eligibility requires enrollment in an overseas university as an undergraduate or postgraduate student, proficiency in English, and pre-approval from the student's home institution.

Course Description:

This course delves into open-economy macroeconomics, examining the interrelatedness of global economies and the effects of international economic forces on individual countries. It explores the microfoundations of various sectors within an open economy and investigates the international money and capital markets, including the functioning of the foreign exchange market and its impact on macro performance. Students gain insight into theories surrounding international capital markets' efficiency and the determination of exchange rates and asset prices. Through this study, students develop an understanding of how monetary and fiscal policies affect economies, both small and large, under different regimes, offering a comprehensive view of international macroeconomic concepts and real-world economic issues. Students will gain experience interpreting, analyzing, and putting into perspective real international economic issues.

Prerequisite:

Prior knowledge in fundamental Finance is required for taking this course.

Academic Integrity

Students are expected to uphold the university's academic honesty principles which Zhejiang University Global Program 5 International Macroeconomic Theory and Policy are an integral part of the university's core values and principles. If a student fails to observe the acceptable standards of academic honesty, they could attract penalties and even disqualification from the course in more serious circumstances. Students are responsible for knowing and observing accepted principles of research, writing and any other task which they are required to complete.

Academic dishonesty or cheating includes acts of plagiarism, misrepresentation, fabrication, failure to reference materials used properly and forgery. These may include, but are not limited to: claiming the work of others as your own, deliberately applying false and inaccurate information, copying the work of others in part or whole, allowing others in the course to copy your work in part or whole, failing to appropriately acknowledge the work of other scholars/authors through acceptable referencing standards, purchasing papers or writing papers for other students and submitting the same paper twice for the same subject.

This Academic Integrity policy applies to all students of the Zhejiang University in all programs of study, including non-graduating students. It is to reinforce the University's commitment to maintain integrity and honesty in all academic activities of the University community.

Policy

The foundation of good academic work is honesty. Maintaining academic integrity upholds the standards of the University. The responsibility for maintaining integrity in all the activities of the academic community lies with the students as well as the faculty and the University. Everyone in this community must work together to ensure that the values of truth, trust and justice are upheld.

Academic dishonesty affects the University's reputation and devalues the degrees offered. The University will impose serious penalties on students who are found to have violated this policy. The following penalties may be imposed:

- ✓ Expulsion
- ✓ Suspension
- ✓ Zero mark /fail grade
- ✓ Marking down
- ✓ Re-doing/re-submitting of assignments or reports, and
- ✓ Verbal or written warning.
